

Spring into Summer with

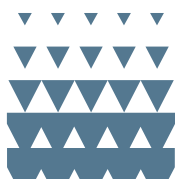

5 reasons to get your lime on before autumn

1. AgLime reacts rapidly, with over 50% of its effect within the first 3 months. So summer liming helps prepare your soil for autumn applied fertiliser.
2. Well limed soil enables pasture to access a greater range of nutrients, ensuring that fertiliser applications are fully utilised.
3. Soil pH levels tend to fall by one to two points between spring and autumn which can affect pasture production. You can avoid this dip by applying AgLime.
4. Late spring /early summer AgLime applications have more chance of seasonal rain to enhance growth and utilisation.
5. Clover loves lime. It fixes N, is more palatable and has a higher energy content than ryegrasses, so don't make it wait!

WHY GRAYMONT AGLIME?

Our Agricultural Lime is organically certified (BioGro) and is Fertmark certified to contain at least 90% calcium carbonate. It is also processed to meet agronomic recommendations for particle size.
